Pluglin/Akeneo - User Guide

Pluglin is the SAAS solution for translations developed by Blarlo, a top translation agency with more than 5.000 qualified professional translators that translate more than 450 language pairs for top clients from all over the world.

Install the Pluglin/Akeneo connector to sync all your contents and translations between your Akeneo and Pluglin account.

1. Setting up

- a) Get your Pluglin account. Go to https://www.pluglin.com and create a new account.
- b) In your Akeneo installation, go to System > Connections.
- c) Create a new connector with the data:
  - Label: Pluglin Type: Other
- d) Keep handy the created data that was provided with the new connector, we will ask for it on the next step:
  - client_id secret username password
- e) Go back to your Pluglin account and go to Integrations > Add Akeneo integration. You will see a screen with the instructions to create the Connection in Akeneo. Click on "Continue".

f) Add now the data you got in step d) and click on Continue.

2. Getting your first translations

- a) Go to your Pluglin account and, under Projects, select your Akeneo project.
- b) Navigate to the Files/Contents or Translations tab.
- c) Select the contents you want to translate and click on "Translate".
- d) Select machine or professional translation and complete the process.
- e) Once the translations are completed, you have to publish the translations to your Akeneo.
- f) Select the contents you want to publish and click on "Publish". Confirm and wait until the publishing process is finished.
- g) Go back to your Akeneo and check that the translations are present.

3. Editing translations

You can always edit your translations in your Pluglin account:

- Go to your Pluglin account and, under Projects, select your Akeneo project.
- Navigate to the Translations tab.
- Select the language you want to edit and navigate to the content you want to modify.
- Select the content, edit the translation and click on "Save".
- Now, if you publish again your translations you will get your edited translations in your Akeneo.
